DISARMAMENT DEBATE IS DUE

Cotton Bounces Up $10

PRICES INCREASE AT OPENING, DROP, THEN CLIMB LIMIT AGAIN

GOVERNMENT INFLUENCES GIVEN CREDIT FOR NEW BOLSTERING OF TRADE

Cotton closed up the allowed 200-point, or $10, limit today in New Orleans and New York.

Prices Up, Down; Up.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Cotton prices moved up, then down, and then smartly upward to reach the $10-a-bale daily limit today in heavy trading following yesterday's 24-hour suspension of transactions in the futures market.

The whole market surged forward after the dip, but cotton for delivery in nearby months had to rise from a point $5 a bale below last Tuesday's close, when some prices had effected a tumble of $50 a bale over a two-week's period.

The stock market also caught the buying fever and the ticker tape ran three minutes behind floor trading shortly after noon with many issues up from $1 to more than $5 a share.

Cotton traders explained today's violnet fluctuations by saying that a heavy volume of overnight liquidation orders had battered down the opening advances.

Then the buyers over-ran the market and cotton for delivery in the near months — December, March, May and July—reached the permissible limit of advance in a single day's trading shortly after noon.

At New Orleans heavy mill buying entered the cotton market in the middle of the morning, and advanced prices on all futures the $100 limit of fluctuations for one day.

The buying was said to be for price fixing purposes by the mills.

COTTON SHIPMENTS GO ON—Speculative exchanges closed Oct. 30, but it was business as usual at the New Orleans dock board's "world's largest cotton warehouse." These bales, already sold, are being shipped. (AP Wirephoto).

County Cotton Ginned Totals 18,502 Bales

There had been 18,502 bales of the 1946 cotton crop ginned in Navarro county prior to Oct. 18, 1946, as compared with 17,792 bales on the same date in 1945, according to an announcement Thursday by George Campbell, special agent.

TRUMAN ACTION IS AWAITED

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—(AP)—President Truman took the cotton price situation "under advisement" today, but White House Secretary Charles G. Ross said he expects no immediate government action.

Ross said at a news conference that the matter is being studied both by Mr. Truman and Reconversion Director John R. Steelman.

Asked whether he expects any action today, Ross replied: "I do not."

Opening quotations on the principal cotton exchanges this morning rebounded sharply from the levels which prevailed prior to the suspension of trading yesterday.

Earlier, Rep. Sparkman (D-Ala.), had predicted some government move, possibly by nightfall.

Ross said he did not know what action may be taken, adding that is up to Mr. Truman and Steelman.

ORDERS FROM WHITE HOUSE RESULT IN SHOES' DECONTROL

BY EDWIN B. HAAKINSON

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Decontrol of the nation's $2,000,000,000-a-year shoe industry become effective today after the White House publicly directed OPA Chief Paul Porter to throw shoe price ceilings into the discard.

Friends of Porter said he had refused to take any action until ordered to do so. Also in compliance with White House wishes, they said, he removed ceilings on all leather and hides.

Porter Opposes Decontrol.

These sources told a reporter the price administrator resisted the White House request because he was opposed to piecemeal removal of controls before OPA is ready to publish its major decontrol list.

Steelman issued the order late yesterday and OPA followed through within a few minutes with its brief decontrol announcement.

OPA officials said retail shoe prices might soar 20 to 30 percent above present levels before they begin to turn downward.

Seamen's Rooming House Fire Fatal To 3; Many Hurt

BALTIMORE, Oct. 31—(AP)—Three seamen were burned to death in a fire which swept a waterfront rooming house early today and battalion chief Thomas Heagerty of the fire department said a home-made incendiary bomb apparently was tossed into the living room.

Police said the owner had received a warning a week ago.

A fourth man was critically burnel, four others were hospitalized with third degree burns and one other was injured when he and another man jumped from a second floor window.

Chief Hagerty said a one-gallon can which apparently had contained gasoline was found in the living room debris.

Patrolman Bernard E. Thomas said he was standing at a nearby intersection when he heard the large plate glass window in the front of the building crash.

At the same time, Thomas said, he saw a man walking away from the building. He got into a car, which sped away.

Butler Convicted In Dallas Murder Case; Gets Life

WAXAHACHIE, Texas, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Johnny Andrew (Baldy) Butler was convicted of murder charges today in the shooting of Mrs. Rose Suger of Dallas and sentenced by an Ellis county jury to life imprisonment.

The verdict was reached after two hours and 25 minutes deliberation this morning.

MAJOR SENTENCED TO THREE YEARS, ARMY DISCHARGE IN THEFT

FRANKFURT, Germany, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Maj. David F. Watson was sentenced to three years' imprisonment and dismissal from the U. S. army today upon his conviction on charges of conspiracy and receiving stolen property in connection with the $1,500,000 Kronberg Castle jewel theft.

It was the second conviction in the case of the stolen Hesse family jewels. WAC Capt. Kathleen Nash Durant was sentenced earlier to five years' imprisonment. Her husband and Watson's commanding officer, Col. Jack W. Durant, is awaiting trial.

ESTONIAN REFUGEES TAKEN IN CUSTODY; HALTS DEPORTATION

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 31.—(AP)—The attorney general of the United States assumed authority over 48 Estonian refugees who sailed 6,000 miles from Sweden to Miami in small boats and a representative he sent here said today the group will not be deported until another order is given by the attorney general's office.

Thomas B. Shoemaker, deputy commissioner of immigration sent here by Attorney General Tom Clark after President Truman personally expressed concern over the Estonians, said the refugee group will remain under the supervision of the immigration department.

Hopkins Gin Co. Plant At Drane Leveled By Fire

Fire Wednesday night leveled the Hopkins Gin Co's plant at Drane, seven miles west of Corsicana, at a loss of more than $30,000.

The gin, located in the tiny community on the old Dresden Road, was a complete loss as well as 25 bales of cotton.

Corsicana firemen, fighting with only a booster truck, succeeded in isolating the fire and saved both the cottonseed warehouse and the cotton warehouse, where unginned lint was stored.

The blaze, of unknown origin, gained rapid headway.

Roy Hopkins, Corsicana, owner, was in Drane Thursday morning and could not be reached for an accurate statement of the loss.

It was said at his office however, that the cotton was covered by insurance, and that probably the plant.

Armour Convicted Of Tie-In Sales In Federal Court

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 31.—(AP)—U. S. District Judge Kuy K. Bard today convicted Armour & Co., meat packers, on 17 counts charging it forced butchers to buy other products in order to obtain meat and butter.

Sentence was deferred until Dec. 2, pending hearing on a motion for new trial offered by Charles A. Kenworthy, former Pennsylvania superior court judge and attorney for the company.

PALESTINE ARABS TO MEET, PARADE AMID RUMORS OF UPRISING

DISCONTENT SEEN AS RESULT OF "JEWISH" TERRORIST BOMBINGS

BY CARTER L. DAVIDSON

JERUSALEM, Oct. —(AP)—Leaders of Futuwah, a Palestine Arab army, called for a parade and mass meeting in the Arab city of Nablus tomorrow as rumors of an Arab uprising spread through Jesusalem in the wake of bombing attacks attributed by police to the Jewish underground.

The Arab leaders said specifically that this was not to be a "protest meeting" but other Arab sources said the parade was "calculated as a show of strength." Four British soldiers were killed and at least 12 Britons and six Arabs were wounded in yesterday's incidents.

Terrorists Condemned.

Simultaneously, a spokesman for the Jewish agency said "the Jewish agency and other Jewish authorities will combat with all the resources at their own disposal the criminal activities of gangs which not only terrorize British authorities, but Palestine Jews as well."

This spokesman said the perpetrators of bombings and mine incidents "outlaw themselves from the organized community." The Jewish National Council (Vaad Leumi) endorsed a resolution of the inner Zionist council against such outbreaks and planned to publish a new appeal to Jews to combat Irgun Zvai Leumi and the Stern Gang, extremist offshoots of the Jewish underground movement.

All Quiet Today.

Police said Palestine was all quiet today as intensive searches continued for the participants in yesterday's incidents—the bombing of the Central Railway Station and the mining of a troop convoy.

The Futuwah parade at Nablus was expected to include a review of some 5,000 uniformed troops by their commander, Kemal Effendi Arikat, and speeches by Arab leaders.

LANDLORDS TO START REGISTERING HOUSES, ROOMS NOVEMBER 1

Landlords of Navarro, Kaufman and Ellis counties who rent houses or rooms to tenants will start registernig with the Corsicana Defense Rental Area Friday morning, it was announced Tuesday at the new federal agency's office in the Mays building.

John S. Murchison, long-time Navarro county political figure and head of the local tri-county rental unit of OPA promised landlords that forms for registration would be available, and that a capable staff would be on hand to assist them in filling out the federal applications.

With the announcement that the office would start a brisk business Friday came a warning from O. M. Stubblefield, Dallas, district rent attorney, that the tenant has the following sharp-axe right over the landlord:

HEAVY PENALITES

If the first rent paid after Nov. 1 is not the same as was charged July 1, 1945, the tenant can file a claim for triple the overcharge, payable to him if he files the claim. If the government files the claim on the tenant's information, or on one of its's inspector's information, the treble damages go into the treatury of the United States.

If the property occupied by the tenant was not rented on July 1, 1945 then the first rent charged after that date goes into effect, and overcharges follow the same procedure.

Stubblefield held a morning orientation meeting of the office staff, and one clerk-typist position is still to be filled.

Office Staff.

In addition to Murchison the staff, according to announcement made by Stubblefield, includes:

Inspectors: Alvin Inmon of Kerens and James Childress of Corsicana.

Clerk-Typists: Mrs. H. G. McKee of Corsicana and Miss C. Grossman of Corsicana.

It was estimated by Stubblefield that there are 11,000 rental units to be registered in the tri-county area.

NEW IOOF BUILDING CONSTRUCTION HERE IS NOW UNDER WAY

Construction of the new IOOF Home here is under way and Mike Peveto, Beaumont, grand master of the IOOF of Texas, has announced that he will put more than 22,000 letters in the mails within the next ten days in an "all-out" campaign in the reconversion program to raise enough money to finish the building.

The grand master reports many fine contributions are being received.

German Peace Pact To Be Discussed By Byrnes, Generals

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Secretary of State Byrnes disclosed today that he has summoned American occupation chiefs back from Germany for consultations in connection with a possible German peace treaty.

The get-together would be to discuss the possibility of laying the groundwork for such a treaty at the forthcoming foreign ministers' council.

Byrnes told his news conference that he has asked Gen. Lucius D. Clay and his civilian adviser Robert Murphy, to return here Nov. 10 for conferences on both preliminary and permanent problems involved in reaching a peace pact.

The Secretary made it clear that he is firmly opposed to making any further trips to Europe in quest of peace there unless concrete hopes for reaching a settlement in Germany can be found at the council meeting.

Byrnes scoffed at reporters' suggestions that the allies could best reach an accord by attempting to solve their problems "on a global rather than a piecemeal basis."

He said the jury involved in the settlements is a four-man affair and that it has to render a unanimous verdict in its decisons. It is difficult now, he added, to get such verdicts on separate problems.

In a jovial mood, he declared it is pretty simple for persons not actually engaged in solving these problems to offer theories for their settlement. He said it is the easiest thing he knows of to sit in the grandstand and throw bottles at the players.

Byrnes said the question of a German peace treaty will be taken up after discussion of the five treaties for the axis satellites—Italy, Finland, Rumania, Bulgaria, and Hungary.

PROPOSAL FOR DISARMAMENT OF WORLD WELL RECEIVED BY U. N., BUT INSPECTION RIGHT PROBLEM

BY J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst.

Many delegates to the United Nations Assembly feel that Russian Foreign Minister Molotov's Tuesday speech indicated distrust and misunderstanding of the motives of the United States and other nations, but they were quick to jump on his disarmament bandwagon.

Previously, general disarmament had hardly been considered. Then suddenly it became a general desire, but with the proviso that it must be accompanied by international inspection and guarantees similar to those suggested by the U. S. for the atom bomb. That will prove a tough provision when it comes to convincing the Russians.

But Molotov's proposal could hardly have been better timed to fall in with the Austin restatement aided by a brief word from President Truman, of American policy. For those who may have mistaken frequent failure to implement that policy for a lack of one, a few lines are sufficient to describe it. It has always been the same, both abroad and at home.

Austin said the U. S. is for removing the burden of arms, for a decent life and for a rasing standard of living in the light of the Golden Rule. Truman said there was a special connotation in world affairs to be drawn from those famous words "government of the people, by the people, for the people."

Whatever tangents may have been taken in individual cases, those points still remain fixed and all-inclusive.

Mr. Austin was not inclined to grapple with Mr. Molotov in an atmosphere of recrimination. But did get in some oblique digs. Such as "the initiative of the Soviet

Russians Informed Molotov Speech Is Hailed By World

By EDDIE GILMORE

MOSCOW, Oct. 31—(AP)—People throughout Russia were told today by all media of information that the United States delegation at the United Nations assembly had recognized the wisdom and constructiveness of the Soviet Union's proposals on general disarmament.

Although U. S. Delegate Warren R. Austin's speech has not yet been published the press and radio had this to say:

"The head of the United States delegation, Senator Austin, stating that Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov's speech was 'wise and sharp.' Recognized the presence of 'constructive proposals in it which may provide a basis for unanimous agreement on positive action for the benefit of peace and security.'"

Commenting Tuesday night upon Molotov's address, Austin said: "It was a smart, tough speech. x x x I was glad to see there were some constructive things in it which I hope will provide a basis for unanimous agreement on positive action for peace and prosperity." The smart-and-tough reference became "wise and sharp" in translation.)

Surviving are a son, Jack Riddle, Marlin; a brother, C. L. Riddle, Sand Springs, Okla.; three sisters, Mrs. Fannie Morris, Waco; Mrs. Rosie McCown, Waco, and Mrs. Edna Gunn, Corsicana; one granddaughter and two grandsons.

PROPOSAL PLACED ON AGENDA AFTER U. S. SUPPORTS RED PLAN

DISCUSSION OF FRANCO SPAIN ALSO ALLOWED BY COMMITTEE ACTION

NEW YORK, Oct. 31—(AP)—Soviet Russia's proposals for world arms reduction were assured a full airing in the United Nations assembly when the 14-nation general committee decided today to include the disarmament question in the assembly's agenda.

Acting on a five-nation demand, the steering committee decided to place the long-fought issue of Franco Spain on the assembly agenda and send it to the political committee for action.

The committee agreed unanimously to send the armaments issue to the 51-nation assembly and to have it referred immediately to the assembly's political committee.

The proposal to put the question on the agenda was offered by British delegate Philip J. Noel-Baker as soon as the general (steering) committee met this morning.

Russia Accepts Plan

"I accept the proposal of the representative of the United Kingdom," said Soviet delegate Andrei Y. Vishinsky.

No other delegates spoke on the question.

Committee action on the arms issue was confined to the Soviet proposals, but it was taken for granted that once they came up the debate would embrace all arms proposals including demands by the United States that adequate inspection and enforcement measures be adopted along with any limitation action.

These safeguards were expected to provide the issue over which the major powers would clash when the debate finally started.

Molotov Urgs Slash

Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov seeks to reduce arms and outlaw atomic weapons by agreement, but Warren R. Austin, chief of the U. S. delegation, declared last night that the United Nations must go beyond that to guard against secret armament.

Russia to date has persistently rejected inspection proposals. The argument thus boils down to basic issue involved in the longed Russian-American agreement over atomic energy control.

Noel-Baker's action was the first indication that Britain favored a discussion of the armaments question. He had protested that he was unable to enter into an immediate discussion of the question at the end of Tuesday's session when Molotov called for comment on the Soviet proposals.

Corsicanan Back "Home" From Trip To Greek "Home"

Jimmy V. Lazaris, the soft-smiling Greek of Beaton street, came back home Monday.

Odd, that, in a way. For just five months ago Lazaris left Corsicana to go home—home to his people, to the home of his father and his father's father, Greece.

But he came back Monday to his home at 315 West Sixth avenue. Back to wander up and down Beaton street, where he fed them by the thousands for 25 years.

Friends Coming Over.

He walked in this store, and that store, a little postcard in his hand, his hat askew on his greying head.

"This," he would say, "is my friend Georgas' wife. And that's her nephews who are coming here. And that's Georgas' brother-in-law, the one with the big mustache, a fine fellow."

Lazaris was very proud of his boyhood friend's fine looking bride.

"Soon," he said, "they come to stay."

"My Friend Georgas."

"My friend Georgas," to be sure, is S. N. Georgas of George's Grill, who went back to Patras, Greece, with Lazaris, and who is detained there now pending approval of visas for his new bride, and the two nephews who will enter Navarro Junior College when they arrive.

Lazaris, who sold his business, the Grand Cafe, before returning to Greece, and Georgas sailed on the Marine Shark from New York June 8. They visited in Palestine and Egypt before landing in Greece. Lazaris left Greece Oct. 3, landing at Galveston Sunday.

Lazaris saw his sister and his nephews for the first time in 33 years. His mother and father had died long before, before, even, he left for his American adventure.

Some Things Better.

"I found things better than I expected," he said. "There was more food than I expected to find. The people, they tried to show us a fine time."

But when Lazaris and Georgas left Corsicana for the trip back to the homeland, they were taking no chances. They took along 33 trunks and crates full of warm clothing and shoes and sundry other things, to give away to the needy Greeks of Athens and Patras.

"That fellow," Lazaris said, "at the gates, he worries about that stuff. We tell him, we do not take this to sell but to give away to our friends. But we had to put up a bond anyway."

Jimmy isn't quite settled yet as to his future, being, as he says, "a retired." But he plans to go back in business as soon as rents adjust themselves.

He probably will go back into the cafe business.

First Baptist Plans Educational Building

Rev. Jared I. Cartlidge, pastor of the First Baptist church, is in Nashville, Tenn., this week conferring with the architectural department of the Southern Baptist Convention Sunday school board relative to plans for an educational building at the local church plant, it was announced Wednesday.

The pastor, accompanied by Mrs. Cartlidge, left Corsicana Monday afternoon. They are scheduled to be back Friday.

Information secured on the trip will be given the deacons and congregation along with recommendations from the Sunday school board.

BOMB BLAST SHAKES ROME; WRECKS PART OF BRITISH EMBASSY

By JOHN McKNIGHT

ROME, Oct. 31—(AP)—A thundering bomb explosion which shook the city wrecked an entire wing of the British Embassy early today and wounded an Italian passerby, perhaps mortally. Police and Embassy officials confessed themselves without a clue as to the identity of the perpetrators.

A gaping hole reaching back for a depth of two rooms was torn into the building by the blast, resulting from two suitcases full of explosives detonated by clockwork. The heavy masonry of the block-long, three-story structure was cracked so deeply that police said part o fit might have to be pulled down.

J. G. Ward, the British Charge d'Affaires, said the blast, which occurred at 2:43 a. m. (8:43 p. m. Wednesday, EST) sounded to him like a "500-pounder" (bomb.) Windows throughout the building on Venti Settembro street in uptown Rome, and in buildings across the street were shattreed. The apartment of Ambassador Sir Noel Charles, who is away on leave, was damaged heavily.

Italian investigators said they could not even think of a reason why anyone in Italy should want to bomb the British, for sustained criticism of British policies has been lacking in Italy since the war ended. Ward and Mihael Stewart, British press attache, said they also were mystified by the bombing.

Texas Will Honor 4-H Boys, Girls Week Of Nov. 2-10

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 31.—(AP)—More than 100,000 Texas 4-H club boys and girls will be recognized for the work they have done in the last year during National 4-H Achievement Week, Nov. 2-10.

At the beginning of 1946, 4-H Club enrollment in Texas included 101,396 members.

As part of their achievement this year club girls canned over a million and a half quarts of food, served 1,152,000 meals, made more than 150,000 garments and redecorated 7440 bedrooms. Club boys raised more than 40,000 acres of field crops, 750,000 chickens, 50,000 head of livestock sold 5,260,000 pounds of beef and pork, and collected 1,500,000 pounds of scrap metal.

LABOR FRONT ACTIVE: LEWIS IS WINNING, THREATS MADE, SHIPS SAIL, AS MANY IDLE

ROUNDUP

By The Associated Press

New threats of work stoppages appeared on the nation's industrial front today.

In Chicago there was a threat of a shutdown of operations of the big stock yards, making idle some 25,000 workers, while in Detroit officials of Ford Local 600 of the CIO United Auto Workers said they soon would file with the National Labor Relations Board a 30-day strike notice against the Ford Motor Company covering 70,000 workers at the company's Rouge plant.

New Violence Seen

After a new outbreak of fighting between pickets and police at the strike-bound Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Company plant in West Allis, Wis., Mayor Arnold Klentz appealed to Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach to have the company and CIO-United Auto Workers resume negotiations in an effort to settle the six months old dispute.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—(AP)—John L. Lewis appeared certain today to emerge from his fight with the government a bigger winner than ever.

With Lewis still holding the whip hand—backed by the tacit but nonetheless real threat of another strike by his 400,000 soft coal miners—all signs point to eventual new government concessions in the negotiations scheduled to start tomorrow.

Whether a walkout will intervene remains to be seen, but here are the sign posts that say the United Mine Workers' chief in the end will get at least part of what he wants:

SHIPPING

By The Associated Press

Texas ports were rapidly returning to normal operations today for the first time in a month, with most seamen waiting only for steam to get up on their long-idle ships.

Longshoremen found a backlog of work piled up behind the waterfront, and only a few West Coast ships in Texas ports remained unmanned and unloaded.

Pickets had been withdrawn everywhere. Even the West Coast ships, whose crews did not come under a new national agreement made with the Masters, Mates and Pilots Association (AFL) and Marine Engineers Beneficial Association (CIO) were not picketed. All parties concerned agreed to withdraw pickets if the ships were not worked.

Two strikes which have kept the Texas ports crippled since solution of the two big national strikes last weekend were settled yesterday.

At Houston 19 cargo vessels were at loading docks.

IDLENESS

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31—(AP)—Strike idleness during the first nine months of 1946 exceeded by nearly three times the working time similarly lost in all of 1945, the previous record year.

Government figures which showed this today placed at 98,225,000 the number of man-days lost due to management-labor disputes during the January-through-September period.

For all of last year the total was 38,025,000. Earlier peaks were 28,425,000 in 1937; 26,219,000 in 1927 and 23,048,000 in 1941.

Fewer Disputes Listed

The Bureau of Labor statistics, which compiled the figures, said the number of strikes and lockouts for the first nine months of this year totaled 3,575, compared with 3,784 for all of 1943.

The reason fo the big jump in man days lost, officials said, is that postwar strikes have been bitter and for keeps, hence extended for longer periods. During the

AMENDMENTS SCORED BY LOCAL ATTORNEY AT CIVITAN MEETING

TOM L. TYSON DECLARES CEMENT TRUST WILL BE IMMUNE, PROTECTED

Tom L. Tyson, prominent state Democratic party leader and local attorney, spoke out strongly today at the Civitan luncheon in the Navarro Hotel against two of the proposed amendments to the state constitution.

"I think the amendment being popularized as the 'Good Roads Amendment' could more appropriately be called the 'Cement Trust Amendment,'" he declared.

Tyson stated that the present ratio of funds—3-4 of the gasoline and oil tax to roads and 1-4 to schools—had been in effect for nearly 17 years.

"I think the source of the appeal for passage of the amendment is not to perpetuate the 1-4 for schools, but the 3-4 to purchase of steel and cement for roads."

Citing the passage of a recent amendment that set the 35 million ceiling on welfare aid, Tyson said the passage of the amendment on Nov. 5 would set forever the ratio of income for the "Cement Trust."

Cement Trust Protected.

"The cement trust will be immune and protected from any disturbance of its funds despite the economic situation prevailing."

With inclusion of the allocation in the constitution, the percentage would remain the same even in times of state distress and he termed it unfair in that respect.

Tyson also lashed at the Nov. 7 election on an amendment calling for the issuance of 25 million dollars in bonds to purchase land to sell to veterans. No veteran he had talked to, Tyson stated, was in favor of the act. The Veterans' Administration and banks are able to aid the veteran in acquiring property, Tyson declared.

"It will be a heyday for the real estate speculators who have entree to the offices of the three state officials. Let the real estate speculators and bond merchants have some other year for success and let the state officers pay off their debts in some other way."

Advisory Board.

Under the amendment the governor, attorney general, and state land commissioner form an advisory board of three to purchase the land for resale to veterans.

Tyson called for passage of the first amendment calling for payment of $75,000 for a science building at John Tarleton College. Authorization for construction was made, but in the appropriation bill the payment was inadvertently omitted. The honor of the people is at stake in this amendment, he stated, and blamed the creaking state constitution for the inability to discharge the obligation.

The second amendment enabling the many state employes to benefit from social security was lauded by the attorney, who said the many employes were being discriminated against because of not having such provisions.

Tyson prefaced his remarks by saying he did not intend to influence the club, but to stimulate thought and research. He lambasted the antiquity of the state constitution and called for a new document.

M. A. Spurgeon and Bill Smith were in charge of the program with Spurgeon introducing the speaker. Frank Williams brought the invocation.

It Happened 25 Years Ago Today

(From the Files of the Corsicana Daily Sun.)

The American Legion went into action today in Kansas City at the national convention and loudly shouted for a bonus. Vice President Calvin Coolidge said that the administration would give all possible for the veterans, but that the best that could be done now for the nation was a chance to get back on its feet and not drain the national resources with a bonus.

The city of Corsicana won its case when the appelant court upheld the district court decision against Capt. James Garitty et al, who questioned the legality of issuance of bonds for new school buildings.

Corsicana High School forfeited the Waxahachie game in the middle of the final period when the Waxahachie coach kept talking to his players. A Waxahachie man was referee. Beauford H. Jester received a by line as the writer of the story in the Sun.

CURTIS M. CONNER FUNERAL SERVICES THURSDAY AT 3 P. M.

Funeral services for Curtis M. Conner, aged 39 years, 701 South Fifteenth street, who was fatally injured in a truck accident near Centerville Tuesday night, were held Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the Corley Funeral Home. Burial was in Oakwood cemetery. The rites were conducted by Rev. Jack Goff, pastor of the Northside Baptist church.

Conner, a foreman for the Oil City Iron Works, was en route to Houston with a load of merchandise when his truck truck a bridge at Bedias Creek, and plunged 15 feet into the creek bottom.

Surviving are his wife, two daughters, Mrs. Nathan Benfield and Wanda Sue Conner; three sons, Calvert, Leslie and Johnnie Conner, all of Corsicana; four sisters, Mrs. Ollie Gill, Mexia; Mrs. W. T. Absher and Mrs. Horace Pyree, both of Brenham, and Mrs. A. J. Arrington, Trinidad; a brother, Cleon Conner, Brenham; grandmother, Mrs J. F. Beeman, Kerens, and other relatives.

CLUB NEWS

The Mildred Home Demonstration Club met with Mrs. John Decker in an all-day session on Monday, Oct. 28. A short business session was held, followed by a demonstration of winter decorations.

Plans were discussed for a bazaar for the benefit of the clubs, to be held in Corsicana Dec. 7. A committee was appointed to make plans for a community center. As many members as could were asked to attend the luncheon at Kinsloe House Nov. 16 at the noon hour.

A covered dish luncheon was served to 14 regular members and one visitor, Mrs. W. R. Wright.

A demonstration, showing how to make attractive winter bouquets and Christmas decorations from such things as broomweed, okra pods, dried flowers, seed pods, burrs, and grasses, was given.

The Navarro 4-H club met Friday, October 24 with its sponsor, Virginia Ferguson. Officers were elected and an instructive program was given.

Miss Dorita Walker was elected president; Beweeta Threet, vice-president; Josephine Easley, secretary and treasurer; Betty Joyce Miller, reporter; June Wilcox, song leader; and Jacquie Shepard, recreational leader.

The sponsor gavev an interesting talk on various types of berries, and methods and times of planting them.

The Roane Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. L. E. Knotts on October 25 and elected officers for the coming year.

Mrs. Larue Douglas, this year's president, was reelected to that post. Mrs. H. R. Fluker was elected vice-president; Mrs. Garland Gray, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Ernest Featherston, council delegate; Mrs. Jack Douglas, recreational leader; Mrs. A. V. Frazier, reporter and Mrs. K. C. McCreary, parliamentarian.

The president reported on the last council meeting in the absence of the regular delegate, and members voted to take part in a bazaar to be held at a place not yet named on December 7.

The club in cooperation with the Parent-Teacher organization, also planned a Hallowe'en party to be held at the school.

The club presented a gift to Mrs. E. E. Beams, one of its members who is moving away. Members are to bring secret-sister gifts to the next meeting of the club, to be held November 8 at the home of Mrs. S. B. Washam.

The Chapman Ranch Home Demonstration Club met Friday afternoon, Oct. 25, conducting a recreational session after routine business was finished. Officers were elected for the coming year.

Bingo was the main attraction, and Mrs. Opal Conger won the prize. Several other games were played.

Mrs. J. D. Walker presided over the business session.

New officers are: Mrs. Bert Kilcrease, president; Mrs. Grover Crawford, vice president; Mrs. Willard Mayo, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Hardy Mayo, council delegate, and Mrs. R. J. Henderson, reporter.

Mrs. D. R. Bennett gave the council report. Eight members and five guests were present. Guests included Mrs. Opal Conger, Mrs. Eldridge Keyser, Mrs. Tamp Massey and Mrs. Clarence Henderson.

The hostess for the occasion was Mrs. Marvin Henderson, who served refreshments to those present.

Frost Boy Injured In Fall On Knife

Richard Fields, 12 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Fields of Frost, sustained severe chest injuries Wednesday afternoon when he fell on a pocket knife. He was rushed to the P. and S. hospital here immediately.

Dr. A. L. Grizzaffi, attending physician, reported the boy's condition improved this morning.

Mrs. J. K. Brim and Bobbie Brim of Waco were week end visitors in Corsicana.

WHEEL CHAIRS ARE MADE AVAILABLE BY LOCAL V.F.W. POST

Wheel chairs are being made availbale for temporary use by Navarro county residents for treatment of patients in their own homes, it was announced Thursday afternoon, through the efforts of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Navarri Post No. 3366.

The only cost to the patients will be the transportation of the wheel chair.

The chairs will be kept in Corsicana under the supervision of C. L. Gentry, quartermaster of the post. He is employed at Sears.

C. O. Slaughter of Dawson is the post commander of the organization.

The chairs are being placed in Corsicana so they will be conveniently located and accessible from any section of the county.

Representatives from the post will bear letters of introduction for post officials in the campaign to secure additional chairs.

Porter Johnson, employe of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, Dallas, formerly of Blooming Grove, was a Corsicana visitor Monday.

Relief At Last For Your Cough

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

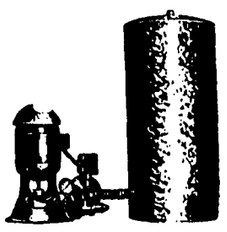

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

COMPTROLLER URGES PASSAGE OF STATE EMPLOYES' BENEFIT

AUSTIN, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Comptroller George H. Sheppard has added his endorsement of the proposed constitutional amendment authorizing the establishment of a system of retirement, disability and death compensation for state and county employees.

He said such a system would add to the efficiency of all state departments and would mean a saving to the tax payer if all departments could keep an efficient staff.

Sheppard predicted the amendment would be approved "by a safe margin" at the general electiton Nov. 5.

Fining Of Guards For Prisoners' Escapes Illegal

AUSTIN, Oct. 31.—(AP)—An attorney General's opinion has held illegal a long-time state prison practice of assessing a $25 fee against prison guards considered "most responsible" for a prisoner's escape.

The attorney general declined to rule on whether employees who have paid such assessments must be reimbursed. The opinion said each individual situation would depend on its own peculiar facts.

State Auditor C. H. Cavness, who requested the opinion, said he was informed the practice had been handed down through the years and that all employees of the prison were informed of it at the time they were hired.

Assessments went into prison farm funds, he said.

The opinion noted that the legislature had specifically dealt with the precise matter of escapes through willfulness or negligence on the parts of guards, thus excluding all other method of assessment of penalties or fines in such matters.

State statute fixes punishment in willful cases at two to five years in the penitentiary and in negligent cases at fines not exceeding $1,000.

VET ADMINISTRATION PROMISES DECISION ON M'CLOSKEY SOON

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Veterans Administration officials have promised a decision within two weeks on the future status of the McCloskey Hospital at Temple, Texas, a delegation from Texas reported here last night.

The time was set at a conference between Gen. Omar Bradley, Veterans' Administrator, other VA officials and a Texas delegation that included Rep. Poage (D-Texas); Mayor Guy Draper of Temple, Temple City Attorney Byron Skelton, Publisher Frank Mayborn of the Temple Telegram and Myron Blalock of Marshall, Tex., national Democratic committeeman.

Also attending was T. G. Lanphier of Dallas, deputy VA administrator for the Southwest.

The McCloskey installations, formerly an army general hospital, at present is being used in part by the VA on a taemporary basis.

The 220-acre development has been mentioned for possible untilization as a focal point for all federal farm agencies in Texas. By using its buildings for state headquarters for such agencies as the Farm Security Administration and Soil Conservation Service, the government could save thousands of dollars annually in rents on offices scattered throughout the state.

Through Bus Service To West Coast Due

DALLAS, Oct. 31.—(AP)—The first through bus service from Dallas to the west coast will be inaugurated here, tomorrow by the Continental Trailways Bus System, M. E. More, president, has announced.

Moore said the two-no-change limited runs from Dallas to Los Angeles will be the longest no-change bus operations of any transcontinental company in the country.

The bus officials also announced four new local schedules, with only one change at Albuquerque, N. M., to the west coast.

DREGS OF WAR

The depths of homelessness has been reached by those curiously afflicted human beings known as "Volksdeutsche," citizens for generations of Poland, Rumania, Czechoslovakia, Jugoslavia, whose ethnic origin are German. Expelled by the Potsdam agreement from these countries, they are denied entrance to Germany, which cannot absorb any additional destitution.

These forlorn people have become bottlenecked by the thousand in Austria, where a Philadelphian, Arthur G. Billings, working for the American Friends Service Committee, found them in rags, without shoes, living in windowless, floorless sheds. Daily food was six ounces of bread, a bowl of soup and milk, miraculously provided by the city of Vienna. The Quaker's business was to get clothinng, sent from America, to them, a priceless boon. Later, he reports, some were moved to better quarters where they slept on straw ticks instead of the ground.

But their ultimate fate is in the air. They form one of the insoluble aftermaths of the war tragedy. This sort of human problem explains in part why a peace settlement is so long being arrived at.

LIVE-SAVING SIESTA

A physician, speaking before a group of men over fifty years of age, urged them to spend more time in relaxation.

He claimed that most deaths of men in their fifties were the result of high blood pressure, though the causes given might be heart-disease, arterio-sclerosis, or kidney diseases. A mid-day nap was recommended as one way of relaxing, but most business men consider this impossible to achieve. In tropical countries, where the siesta is a national habit, all buinesses are closed during the mid-day hours, but as life is organized in the U. S. A., business men are seldom able to nap while the busy whirl goes on around them.

The doctor has something, though, as many harried, nervous men will admit. A program organized to permit more pleasant relaxation for the men who keep the wheels of business and industry going would be likely to prolong the usefulness and lengthen the lives of many valuable persons.

LEADER OF SWEDEN

"Socialist" is not a word that frightens Swedes. In the last seven years a Socialist premier, Per Albin Hansson has guided his country through the world war and the only less dangerous post-war period, and Sweden is one of the few prosperous nations in Europe. His has not, however, been an all-Socialist government but a coalition. No party was willing to serve under a Socialist leader who was that and nothing else, but Swedes were willing to believe that Hansson would serve Sweden, which he did.

Hansson has always been opposed to militarism. Though 1923 was a year of European peace, the Swedish government of the time suppressed an anti-war book which he had written in 1909. This did not prevent him from being called on to rule in time of crisis, any more than a like attitude stood in the way of Socialist James Ramsay Macdonald's later becoming prime minister of Britain.

Now Hansson is dead at 61, when he might have had years more of usefulness. Sweden will be lucky to find another premier from any party as able as he.

TRIP TO VENUS

"All aboard for Venus! the moon the first stop!" If this cry is ever heard at our airport, Samuel Herrick is likely to have at least part of the responsibility. He is teaching rocket navigation at the University of California, the first course of its kind in the United States. He thinks it not impossible that a rocket - impelled craft might get beyond the influence of the earth's pull and be able to make Venus. Though Venus at its farthest is 161,000,000 miles from the earth, at its nearest it is only 25,000,000 miles, a mere nothing to an astronomer.

There is just one difficulty which might be considered a drawback. If the celestial navigator, either in going or coming, made a slight miscalculation, even if it were only 100 miles, he might never land anywhere. He might continue to circulate to the end of time as a satellite of whatever planet he might be nearest, to the great astonishment of all astronomers.

"You were in the Battle of the Bulge, weren't you? Well, this ain't it." Thus the manager of a world's series soothed a jittery ball-player. The rest of us might take this hint. If things seem trying, remember that the war was worse and that we weathered it.

HIDDEN MOTIVE

A man who handles farm property observes that very little of it is changing hands among farmers, but that the buyers of country places are city folk.

A returned soldier, having seen the bomb-wrecked cities of Europe, suggests that, consciously or unconsciously, people are looking for a chance to leave the centers of population for the safer open spaces. Someone has said, "In time of peace, prepare for war." And this may be the thought back of many farm purchases.

More to be desired would be conscious, constructive work for peace, the attainment of which would make the whole world safe for everyone. When we do our star-gazing, we should be able to do it happily, in search of beauty or knowledge, not watching for death from the sky.

The more we shiver about Russia, the more Russia shivers about us.

HALLOWE'EN

Little ghosts will come tonight,
Masked and robed in garments white,
Wailing out a dismal: "Boo!"
Just to frighten me and you.

Little beggars at the door
Will be saying: "Feed the poor!"
Lest their pleas you must deny,
Have some sweetmeats handy by.

Get a pumpkin; whet the blade—
Jack-o'-lanterns must be made.
Happiest task the whole year through
Grandpas all are asked to do.

What a dreary world 'twould be
Were it always mischief free,
Children neither heard nor seen,
Having fun on Hallowe'en.

POWERFUL, KINDLY LITTLE MAN HOLDS FATE NAVARRO COUNTY EX-CONVICTS IN FRIENDLY HANDS

By BOB CAMPBELL
Daily Sun Staff.

A powerful little man who occasionally has to reach to the floor and pick up an "h" he unconsciously dropped, controls the destinies, for better or for worse, of Navarro county's ex-convicts.

The man, the son of a sea captain who fought the salt for 45 years, is not a Texan. He was born in Newfoundland and reared in Canada. But in his hands he holds the hearts of 13 men, 11 of whom believe in him explicitly.

The other two "beggars," he grins, "worry me a 'eap sometimes."

Heads Salvation Army.

The hearts he holds became a sacred trust to Major William Carter of the Salvation Army. He is chairman of the Navarro county parole board, but so few know it, or care about it.

A communicant of the high Episcopal church, Major Carter looked upon the Salvation Army as a means of helping the poor. That was 39 years ago, and he has never turned back.

Today the ex-convicts who get a reprieve come to him. Maybe the reprieve is for three months, perhaps for six. Maybe it is a leave of only seven days granted by the state board of pardons and paroles.

Shuffles "Removed."

In his little office in the sanctuary of the building where no man is ever refused entrance, where no man is ever refused bread if he is hungry, where no man is ever refused solace if he is sore of heart—into this little office the ex-convicts trek. Maybe shuffle is a better word, but the shuffle is part of the major's business, too. He tries to take it out.

There is the case of No. 83164.

Back in July, 1936, he received nine sentences totaling 62 years for burglary in Smith county. He served 15 years, working on the farms of the Texas prison system. He was named a state-approved trusty in 1941.

On Oct. 8, 1946, he was given a six-months reprieve to see if he could take it. His mother was ill and needed her aging boy. The case was transferred here when the mother moved to join another son.

Parolee Picks Cotton.

No. 83164 comes every month to see the little major. He puts his heart on the table and the major has not found it wanting. No. 83164 is working. He is picking cotton and working the farms.

To the major he is saying, without even knowing it, "Look, I'm doing my best. I am working with my hands. I am staying clean. Mebbe the six months can be stretched into a year, and that year into another, and finally a pardon."

The little major, whose eyes could rivet, or melt, come the whim, can see it done.

But sometimes the parolees do not come. They do not report their once a month. The major has only to scratch a line to the parole board, and the man becomes a fugitive, certainly a loser. That is all he has to do—scratch a line.

Hasn't Scratched Yet.

"Listen," he said, bouncing out of his chair. "When they don't come I go out after them. I drive into the country until I find them, and where I find them I reason with them. I don't want to send them back to the penitentiary. I talk to them in language they can understand."

Do they come in the next time?

"Maybe," he said. "But if they don't, I hunt them up. Sometimes it is a task."

"Sometimes," he said, "I save a man."

Today Major Carter has 13 on his roster. Eleven are working. Two are not.

One is a white man with 90 years hanging over him. There are other whites; there are other negroes.

Cares For All.

In the little place where a man can come when he is tired, in the little place where a man can come when he is ill—in that little West Collin street place Major Carter doesn't care whether they are white or black.

"They're my men. I get no pay, nor want any. We have been doing this for four years. First Capt. Herschel Murphy, and then Capt. Holt Smith, and now myself," he said.

"Criticism of the parole system? Yes, I guess there would be some. Some men are born to the trigger. Some men must die by the sword because they live by the sword.

"But mine—I try to reason with them. I try to keep them from going back. It's bad—terribly bad—to have to go back."

OFFICERS OF JUNIOR COLLEGE STUDENT BODY ANNOUNCED

Sammy Palmeri of Corsicana was elected president of the student body at Navarro Junnior college in balloting that took place last week, C. G. Strickland, dean, disclosed Thursday.

Freshman class officers named were John R. Adams, Corsicana, president; Harold Bryant, Corsicana, vice president; and Rita Woodward, Corsicana, secretary-treasurer.

Additional officers of the student body will be named later. No date has been set as yet for the inauguration ceremonies.

PRINCE INDIGNANT OVER REPORT THAT FIREMEN GRUMBLING

Police and Fire Commissioner Fred Prince Thursday refused to make any statement regarding complaints of his $125-a-month firemen that with inflationary prices they could not live with any degree of comfort.

Prince, chewing his inevitable cigar, said, "I ain't talking," as he expressed indignation of the report that the firemen were grumbling about low pay.

"Who said they weren't satisfied?" he asked.

"When you print something in the newspaper, why don't you put some names to it?"

The firemen, getting their take-home pay of less than $125 after deduction of withholding taxes, hope to see the issue put before the city commission.

They seek at least a pay comparable to city policemen, which is low. Policemen on patrol draw only $150 base.

Whether Prince was to refer the matter to the commission as a whole at the next meeting was problematical, inasmuch as he had expressed no advance opinion.

Adjustment of wages to bring the pay level up to a point where the cost of living could be offset has been discussed by Prince informally before.

Return Of Wildlife To Big Bend Park Seen By Official

AUSTIN, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Return of wildlife to Big Bend National Park is predicted by Dr. Ross Maxwell, superintendent of the park.

"One can already notice a remarkable improvement in the number of small game," he reported to the state parks board. "In fact the deer are getting so plentiful they are sort of a nuisance—troop down to park headquarters in herds at night to drink at the water troughs.

Dr. Maxwell attributed the return to clearing the park of many thousand head of cattle and goats which is allowing the grass to grow again.

The grass "will hold rain and snow instead of letting it run off fast. This is expected to raise the water table and to make a considerable part of the park less arid," the superintendent reported.

"As this goes on, wild life will come back."

Dr. Maxwell said about 2,000 visitors a month visited the park during the summer months.

NOTICE!
To Subscribers and Friends of the
Corsicana Semi-Weekly Morning Light

Because of the increased cost of print paper, general advances in pay rolls and higher prices of all materials and services that go into the making of a newspaper, and to be able to continue to give the public a high class newspaper as heretofore, it is necessary for the Corsicana Semi-Weekly Morning Light to increase its subscription prices beginning November 1st, as follows:

6 Months - - - $2.00 In Advance
12 Months - - - $3.00 In Advance
No Subscription Less Than 6 Months

This slight raise in subscription price is much less than other papers over the nation are charging to meet the present conditions, and we feel sure our subscribers will be glad to co-operate so we may continue to give them a good newspaper.

The Corsicana Semi-Weekly Morning Light cannot stand still; it must continually strive to raise its standards of service to its subscribers and the public in general.

Economic needs cannot be ignored if this policy is to endure.

Appreciating the patronage of the many thousands of subscribers to the Corsicana Semi-Weekly Light, we are—

WARNING IS ISSUED AGAINST WHOOPING COUGH IN WINTER

AUSTIN, Oct. 30—(Spl—Inasmuch as the incidence of whooping cough in Teras is expected to show an increase during the coming months, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, released a statement today urging that strenuous efforts be made to control the spread of this debilitating childhood disease.

"Whooping cough can only be contracted by direct exposure to the disease, and isolation of cases must be universally controlled if the incidence is to be controlled," Dr. Cox stated.

"The infectious agent or germ of whooping cough in transmitted by droplets expelled in coughing, sneezing, or speaking," Dr Cox said. "The discharges from the nose and throat are dangerous to susceptible persons; the need for early recognition and careful isolation of whooping cough is obvious."

The first sign of this disease is usually a dry cough, which persists day and night and tends to become increasingly severe. The disease is fully developed when vomiting of food and whooping accompany the paroxysm of cough, Dr. Cox stressed the fact that children who have whooping cough should not attend school or come into contact with other children until three weeks after the appearance of typical signs of the disease.

"Prevention and control of whooping cough, especially among infants and small children, may be accomplished through use of approved vaccine and convalescent serum," Dr. Cox asserted, "and it is important that such measures be taken to protect them. Neglecting to do so, and allowing the young child to suffer an attack of this disease, may seriously impair his future health."

FREEDOM AND FRIENDLINESS THE TOUCHSTONE OF RELIGION*

Struggle of Early Church to Maintain Spiritual Liberty of Believers - - Trouble-Making Judaisers, and Their Modern Successors - - Love of Neighbors Fulfills Law

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS and EARL L. DOUGLASS

"Sheep-stealing" is one of the trials of many mission fields. Into the flock of native Christians, built up by years of laborious shepherding, come representatives of special cults, such as holiness, Divine healing, Sabbatarianism, Millennialism, Jehovah's Witnesses, and other special intrepretations of the Gospel. They do not go into raw heathendom for converts but seek adherents to their "new truth," from the established missions, some times wrecking the latter.

Something like this took place in Antioch. After a great and growing Christian Church had been established, especially among the Gentiles, zealous Christian Jews came from Jerusalem to Antioch, insisting that converts be circumsized, and required to follow the Mosiac ritual, in all its amplifications. This invasion threatened the very existence of the new Church. It would make Christianity a mere sect of Judaism.

A Crisis in Christinaity

Here was a crisis for Christianity. All the future of the Church was involved in the issue. Was the Gospel of Christ for all the world, or for the Jews alone, and for those who would become Jews? Must the Old Testament of the Law be laid, in all its paralyzing details, upon the Gentiles who had found salvation in Christ? Was the Gospel bondage or liberty?

Paul knew it to be liberty. He had known the bondage of a Pharisee's life and the Gospel had made him free. He was determined that freedom should be the lot of all believers.

So appeal was made to the Mother Church in Jerusalem, where James, the brother of Jesus, presided over the already well organized Church. The Jerusalem Church was Jewish, and predisposed to the side of the proselyters who had gone to Antioch. But Paul and Barnabas argued powerfully for liberty, buttressing their plea by a recital of the wonders wrought among the Gentiles on their missionary tour.

The Value of Good News

Paul and Barnabas brought to the council a wonderful store of good news. They piled up fact upon fact concerning the triumphs of the Gospel among the Gentiles. Their testimony made clear that the Message had the same effect upon uncircumcized Greeks as upon Jewish converts. Beyond question, the Spirit made no distinction among believers.

This phase of our Lesson raises the subject of the place of news in religious life and progress. Disciples should know more about what is going on in the Church everywhere. Every concerned Christian should be a subscriber to a good religious newspaper. And he should demand of his daily newspaper that it cover the whole field of religion, especially in these days when Religion is the only hope of a distracted world.

When the Jerusalem leaders heard the evidence, they decided for liberty. They were big men who led the Apostolic Church. Their leader was James, the brother of Jesus, who had not believed in the Messiah until the Resurrection. We should like to know more of the circumstances of his conversion, which made him over a tolerant, judicial, wise man.

Broad Gauge or Narrow?

Something like the change that came over the Jerusalem Church has been witnessed in our own time. A generation ago large denominations made "doubtful amusements" a test of Christian loyalty. Nowadays many devout Christians dance, attend the theatre, smoke and play cards. Only a small minority protest.

We are learning that the Gospel runs on a broad-gauge road and not on a narrow. If the Spirit of God rules a life, and Christ is King of conduct, none of the little formalities of circumcision, or other regulations, matter at all.

So the Jerusalem leaders wrote to Antioch. The new disciples there were counselled to abstain from practices that associated them with idolatry, and from immorality. They were not to be in bondage to ritual, but to live in the Freedom of the Spirit.

The Day's Big Word

Having been officially delivered from the bondage of circumcism and all that it implied, the Gentile Christians were given the great word of spiritual freedom. Henceforth they were to be ruled by the Spirit and not by law.

In his letter to the Galatians, Paul showed the practical outworkings of spiritual liberty and insight. "For the whole law," he wrote, "is fulfilled in one word, even in this: Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." Again he wrote, "Walk by the Spirit, and ye shall not fulfill the lusts of the flesh". This is the higher law of the Christian life.

To those first century Christians the Spirit meant more than He does to us. Is it too strong a statement to say that the modern Church has neglected the Holy Spirit? We seldom hear sermons upon His office. His all-important part in changing our times is seldom mentioned. Conferences are opened and closed without the slightest recognition of His all-potent influence.

Yet without this omnipotent Spirit we shall have neither changed lives or a new world.

OFFICERS ELECTED BY FOX AND WOLF CLUB FOR YEAR

Officers have bene elected for the ensuing year by the Navarro County Fox and Wolf Hunters association.

Marvin Wallace of Corsicana is the new president, succeeding Fred M. Copeland of Pursley who has been the head of the organization for a number of years.

Other officers are Morris Crawford, Kerens, vice president; Adrian Crawford, Kerens, secretary-treasurer; and Charles Copeland, Pursley, assistant secretary-treasurer.

Directors re-elected are Frank Cartlidge, Phillip's Chapel; O. L. Betts, Angus; Bud Banks, Pursley; Charles Kennedy, Purdon; Carl Frazier, Streetman; Virgil Haynie, Powell and DeWitt Wallace, Purdon.

The association recently sponsored its annual barbecue and fox hunt on the Weeks farm in the Pickett community and several hundred sportsmen attended. One of the features of the annual session was a bench show.

Several members of the Navarro county organization plan to attend the state meeting November 4-5-6 at Palestine, Anderson county.

Navarro Jr-College Receives Equipment

Ray L. Waller, president of Navarro Junior college, revealed Tuesday the receipt of new equipment at the school and the opening of the Veterans Guidance Center on Oct. 31.

Dean C. G. Strickland conducted a meeting Monday night in the courthouse to determine the number of students and courses desired in night classes under consideration.

Most popular courses appear to be English, psychology, and accounting, Waller said. Classes will probably be held in Corsicana for convenience of students.

The Guidance Center received additional equipment over the week end and remodeling work is going on in the administrative building to provide adequate space for the unit.

Waller conferred with governmental agencies in Fort Worth Monday and learned the school would be given an opportunity to purchase surplus property at five per cent of the sale price.

Books for engineering drawing have arrived, the president disclosed. Many schools over the nation have been operating without an adequate number of engineering texts.

Corsicana Teachers Association Met At Country Club

The Corsicana Teachers Association met in annual social session at the Corsicana Country Club on Tuesday evening, through the courtesy of Supt. W. H. Norwood.

Miss Sarah Holman served as program chairman and Miss Frances Brodastreet, had charge of decorations.

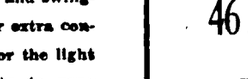

Numerous arrangements of yellow, gold and bronze chrysanthemums, marigolds, daisies and pyrocantha in bronze containers provided a glowing setting for the ocacsion, and the game tallies which were made by the pupils of Miss Ell Louise Mathis of Robert E. Le eSchool, gave further emphasis to the Hallowe'en motif.

After an interlude of bingo, forty-two, rummy and bridge, a social hour was enjoyed with Mrs. H. R. Stroube pouring coffee and Mrs. W. H. Norwood serving cake squares.

Assisting Misses Broadstreet and Holman in arrangements for the occasion were Mesdames Gertrude Russell, Helen Fondren, B. W. George, Misses Alleen Carraway, Barbara Parker, Elizabeth Kelton, Eva Holsey, Herbert Lewis Hill, and H. C. Allen, who had charge of transportation.

A MESSAGE OF INTEREST

to all who await deliveries of new Chevrolets

We want you to know that everything possible is being done to speed deliveries to you; but production still lags far behind schedule—even though Chevrolet has built more cars and trucks than any other manufacturer from January through September 1946

WE REALIZE how eagerly you are awaiting delivery of the new Chevrolet you have ordered from us, and we want to pass on to you the latest information received from the Chevrolet Motor Division, even though that information isn't too encouraging at this time.

It is true that Chevrolet leads all other manufacturers in total production of passenger cars and trucks from January through September 1946, despite the fact that Chevrolet was out of production entirely during the first three months of this year. It is also true that Chevrolet has continued to maintain its lead in total production during the third quarter of 1946. And yet production is still running far below desired levels, with the result that Chevrolet's output of cars and trucks through September 1946 was only 38.7% of the number produced during the corresponding period of 1941.

This means it may take many months for the Chevrolet Motor Division to reach peak production of new Chevrolets—even longer to fill the unprecedented demand for this product of BIG-CAR QUALITY AT LOWEST COST—and, for the present at least, "there just aren't enough Chevrolets to go around," much as we wish there were.

However, we want you to know that new Chevrolets are leaving the plants in the largest numbers possible today. The Chevrolet Motor Division tells us it is doing everything it can, in the face of continued suppliers' strikes, material shortages and manpower problems, to step up shipments to us and to all dealers, in accordance with a predetermined distribution plan assuring each dealer of his fair allotment, based on 1941 passenger car sales. And we, in turn, are doing our best to deliver new Chevrolets to our customers as rapidly as they are received and in the fairest possible way. We are too appreciative of your loyalty and goodwill—too grateful for your patience and understanding—to do anything less than continue to serve you to the very best of our ability.

KEEP YOUR PRESENT CAR RUNNING

Meanwhile, the most important car of all to you is the car you are driving now. May we suggest that you keep it in top running condition until you secure delivery of your new Chevrolet, by bringing it to us for skilled service now and at regular intervals. Remember—cold weather is hardest on old cars. Please see us for a complete check-up today. . . . And, again, thank you!

Auto Workers Threaten

The action by the CIO-UAW in Detroit came after several weeks discussion between the union and the Ford Company over union claims that working conditions at the Rouge plant were unhealthy.

The flurry of renewed fighting at the Allis Chalmers plant marked the third successive day of disorders on the picket lines. Police and deputy sheriffs were the targets of rock, fruit and paint, and autos were tipped over and windows in cars broken. Nine persons were arrested.

Mayor Kienitz appealed to Schwellenbach to have the company and the CIO-UAW resume negotiations "in the interests of public welfare and as a means of avoiding further violence in our streets".

Pilot Strike Continues

In the 11-day old strike by 1,400 AFL pilots against the Trans World Airline in a wage dispute, Federal Mediator Frank P. Douglas expressed hopes of bringing the disputants together.

Two strikes scheduled to start today were delayed. In New York the threatendd walkout by 7,000 Western Union Telegraph Co. employes was averted a few hours before the 12:01 a. m. deadline today, by an agreement to extend the present contract to April 1, 1947, and for employes to receive wage hikes. These included 16 1-2 cents an hour to all non-messenger employes and 10 cents for messengers. The CIO American Communications Association had asked 30 cents and other changes.

Newspaper Halt Delayed

In Philadelphia, a work stoppage by members of the CIO American Newspaper Guild units at the Philadelphia Record and the Camden, N. J., Courier-Post, scheduled to start at noon today, was postponed for one week. A spokesman for the local ANG said the two Guild units voted to accept an offer by top CIO leaders to join in negotiatings with the Newspapers' management in an effort to settle the wage dispute.

The maritime strike, already settled on the Gulf and Atlantic coast appeared scheduled for long duration on the West Coast. Harry Bridges, co-chairman of the committee for maritime unity said that West Coast maritime unions had prepared for a "long drawn out strike" and said prospects were dim for early settlement of the month-long dispute.

Aviation Plant Closes

A strike by an independent union of aircraft workers closed the plant of the Eclipse-Pioneer division of Bendix Aviation Corporation at Teterboro, N. J. Spokesmen for a CIO union seeking recognition as collective bargaining agent for the plant's 2,400 employes said the walkout was "against the CIO—not against the company."

The company said the union had violated its contract by quitting work in an announced effort to enforce a demand for a wage hike of 6 1-2 cents an hour.

war walkouts generally were small, spontaneous and quickly settled.

BLS didn't begin keeping its present type of strike statistics until 1927, so no comparison is possible between the postwar year 1946 and the postwar year 1919 on the basis of man days of work lost.

1919 Far Higher

However, in 1919, BLS says there were 4,160,000 workers involved in strikes. The figure this year may surpass that mark because for the first nine months of 1946 the total involved was 3,805,000.

This is a difference of only 355,000 struck workers but there were 535,000 on strike for the single month of September, principally due to the maritime and New York trucking strikes, now largely settled.

The BLS statistics show how strikes became more severe immediately after the war ended. Three-fourths of all the 38,025,000 man-days idle in 1945 came in the months following V-J Day.

February Record Month

Thereafter the long and widespread steel, auto, coal and electric workers' strikes began to pile up this year's big idleness total. February was the record month with 21,500,000 man-days lost.

For September, the last month recorded, the figure was 5,000,000. By way of comparison there were only 3,317,000 man-days lost because of strikes in the entire year of 1930.

son's attorney, had asked the U. S. military court for an acquittal on the contention that the Burlingame, Calif., officer "had no intent to steal."

The court of 10 colonels began its deliberations after hearing the chief prosecutor, Lt. Col. James Gleason, demand a conviction, charging that Watson was "playing for big stakes," and "fully realized he was taking a risk of punishment if apprehended."

Watson's attorneys had based their three-day defense upon attempts to show that high-ranking officers, including a general, had shared valuables found in Kronberg Castle and that Watson thus saw nothing wrong in his own actions.

"I don't claim," Amen said, "that Watson showed great intelligence in these transactions. What I do say is that you are not dealing with a criminal. Don't send this boy back to civilian life in disgrace."

Amen, pointing out that Watson had spent five months in jail awaiting trial, asked "Has he not already been punished enough for his stupidity?"

The big, balding, 33-year old major took the verdict stoically, standing erect and expressionless in front of the military court. The judges had deliberated an hour and a half.

Union in this (disarmament) matter is appropriate, because of its mighty armies," and then softened it with "just as the initiative of the United States was appropriate in proposing measures to prevent the manufacture and use of atomic weapons."

The size of Russia's army and its deployment outside her borders has been one of the first causes of world nervousness. It is one of the Chief reasons why the United States feels forced to maintain the greatest peace-time forces in her history.

Since all military preparations involve obsolescence in peace and destruction in war, they represent a complete capital loss.

They wrap themselves about nations like old men of the sea, choking the living standards of the would. Any move to loosen the grip is welcomed. But, while to seek the means may be good, there seems to be no reason to expect limitations or controls to be any more effective than in the past. Armies, atom bombs, and war materials in general all fall into the same category. Any plan which will actually control them will control war itself, and neither is likely to happen before the other.

NEW PRICE CONTROL BOARD CHAIRMAN TO BE NAMED SOON

Navarro County is without a Price Control Board chairman.

J. C. Calloway, district OPA supervisor, a paid position, said Thursday that it would be necessary to name a successor to John S. Murchison, who has taken the paid post of rental director for OPA.

The job Murchison relinquished does not pay a salary.

Calloway said that announcement of a successor to Murchison probably would be released by the Dallas district office.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Friendship—Three Thousand Miles Apart

Ever play chess? It's a great game! One of the strongest friendships I know of started with a game of chess—between Dad Hoskins, in our town, and a man named Dalton Barnes, in England.

They've never seen each other, never met. But for the past eight years they've been playing chess by mail together — Dad puzzling over Dalton's latest letter, while he sends a chart of his next move to England.

Dad always thinks best with a yellow glass of beer beside his chessboard. And the Englishman writes him that he does the same. "You know, it's almost as if we shared a glass of beer together, too!" says Dad contentedly.

From where I sit, you can talk about diplomacy and foreign policy, but it's often those little things —like a game of chess or a glass of beer—that can make for tolerance and understanding . . . between people of all nations . . . between neighbors here at home!

My customers really deserve a medal!

They've been so considerate about waiting a bit for the tire that...

OUTWEARS PREWAR TIRES

Even despite the outstanding production in B.F.Goodrich's 75-year history, so many new customers have heard about the amazing performance of the new B.F.Goodrich Silvertown we've had to ask our customers to wait at times. And they've been grand.

B. F. Goodrich Silvertowns are selling like hot cakes . . . are worth waiting for!

If you're looking for a passenger car tire that will OUTWEAR PREWAR TIRES, pick the new postwar Silvertown which has been tested on taxi fleets, police cars, special test cars, and by hundreds of thousands of car owners. Tests showed the wider, flatter tread put more rubber on the road, provided longer mileage, better protection against skidding. To match the performance of this heavier tread, a new 35 per cent stronger cord body was developed with sturdier cords and more of them to give the tire better resistance to bruises and road shock. All this means more safety—more value—more economy—more reason for waiting a little longer for the tire that OUTWEARS PREWAR TIRES.

District Supervisors, Navarro-Hill Soil Conservation District: Morris Crawford, chairman; W. C. Pearce, vice-chairman; Thad Jones, secretary; E. Creekmore and W. Lewis David, members.

The drive on planting legumes among conservation farmers in the Navarro-Hill Soil Conservation District that has been under way since early September is just about over. Several hundred acres of winter legumes have been planted in the Corsicana work territory.

Terrace maintenance and sodding are the jobs being discussed most frequently among conservation farmers for the month of November. Old terrace outlets and terrace outlet channels needing maintenance are receiving attention before winter rains either cause too much damage or prevent work altogether for sometime.

Terrace Outlet

Miss Martha Sullenberger has just recently completed a terrace outlet maintenance job on her farm in the Black Hills community. The banks and bottom of the channels were shaped with heavy equipment and she is overseeding the present bermuda grass with Italian rye and rescue grass along with bur clover for winter cover and grazing. The channel is to be fenced for pasture and will carry four additional cows.

Terrace outlet channel and terrace maintenance is in full swing on the Beauford Jester fram operated by J. W. Watkins.

Approximately 1 1-2 miles of terraces were completed last week on Claude Maggard's farm at Emhouse. The terraces are constructed with a whirlwind terracing machine. The fills in the low places were made before the terraces were built. This makes a smoother terrace when completed. It also makes cultivation easier.

Construction Completed

D. C. Gatlin of the Tupelo Conservation Group has completed construction of 1 1-4 miles of terraces on his farm.

R. E. Montfort has just recently completed construction of approximately 1 1-2 miles of terraces on his farm near Chatfield.

J. C. Freeman of the Emhouse Conservation Group has been busy maintaining his terraces. He says he is interested in getting that job done aread of the winter rains.

Farmers of the North Powell Conservation Group are going strong on winter legumes. Vetch and Austrian winter peas in considerable quantities, and already showing good growths, can be seen on the farm of Mrs. Martha Brown, Pete Ross, Dr. W. W. Carter and V. A. Lonon.

Austrian Winter Peas

Lonon plated 120 acres of Austrian winter peas on his farm and 45 acres on Mrs. Martha Brown's farm, which he operates. Gotcher, on Dr. Carter's farm, has 70 acres of Austrian winter peas. Bancroft, who operates the Carter farm immediately north of Powell, has 30 acres of peas which have already made an excellent growth. Ross planted both peas and vetch. He is also in the terrace construction business on his own farm. He is building his own terraces with a farm tractor and disc plow.

A group farm planning meeting was well attended on the G. W. Watkins farm northeast of Emhouse Friday morning. The group consisted of Future Farmers of the Emhouse vocational class, farmers of the Corsicana Vocational class of ex-service men and landowners of the newly formed conservation group. R. S. Reid, one of the landowners in the group, drove from Tyler to attend the meeting.

Program Discussed.

A "conservation program" was the topic of discussion. The assistance available to the landowners through the Navarro-Hill Soil Conservation District, effects of the conservation program on production and the value of coordinated program for each farm was given considerable emphasis.

R. M. Mitchell of the Corsicana Soil Conservation Service office conducted the group over the farm and reviewed the plan agreed upon by the landowner, operator and himself.

The landowners and operators in the newly organized group present were: G. W. Watkins, R. S. Reid, C. R. DeRusha, J. O. Freeman, Earl Lloyd, J. T. Bewley, Houston Bewley, Delma Vest and E. C Butler.

Rice PTA Session Held At Hi School Tuesday Afternoon

The Rice Parent-Teacher Association met in regular session at the Rice High School on Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. J. K. Bradley presiding.

Routine business included the announcement by Mrs. R. E. Bounds that lunch will be served in the new school lunch project on Friday, and the appointment of room-mothers. Thirty-five subscriptions to the Texas Parent-Teacher Magazine and thirty-five paid-up members were reported. Ten Summer Round-Up final reports were completed.

Appointments Announced

The president appointed Mrs. Luther Murff Summer Round-Up chairman, Mrs. R. M. Bowden was chosen as chairman of the Hospitality Committee.

The first project of the year will be repair of water fountains. Mesdames Lonnie Williams, Luther Murff and Horace Pollan were authorized to have the work done immediately

Speaker Introduced

Miss Lil. Rutherford of the Navarro County Health Unit, brought an instructive discussion of "Laying the Cornerstone," in continuation of the year's theme, "Building Firm Foundations." Stressing the fact that there is a time, place and way to lay the cornerstone in the erection of a building, so is there a time and place to build health and character in a child.

Urging mutual understanding of problems by parent-teachers and the influence of forces outside books in modeling character, Miss Rutherford gave valuable information on community resources for health in building sound bodies.

Bride-Elect Feted At Miscellaneous Shower Saturday

Ann Tilton, bride-elect of Wilson Dosser, was named honoree at a miscellaneous shower given on Saturday afternoon by Mrs. Louise Clements at her home 1581 West Fourth avenue.

Guests were welcomed by the hostess, honoree and her mother, Mrs. L. P. Tilton. Some thirty guests registered in the bride's book which was presided over by Miss Marianna Clements.

The highlight of the entertainment was the display of lovely gifts, which had been presented to the honoree.

The wedding date was announced by means of a yellow paper heart with a white num as its center and "Annie Maude and Wilson, November 16th, 1946" written across the face of the heart. The home was attractively decorated throughout with chrysanthemums. The yellow and white color scheme was further carried out in a huge arrangement of mums that centered the refreshment table where punch, sandwiches, and cookies were served by Miss Eugenia Hignote and Mrs. J. K. Brim of Waco. Others assisting in the dining room were Bobbie Brim of Waco and Anna Lee Pugh.

FIELD SUPERVISOR ANNOUNCES MERGING 2 FEDERAL AGENCIES

The Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Division of the Farm Credit Administration and the Farm Security Administration are merged into a single governmental lending agency, known as the Farmers Home Administration, under the United States Department of Agriculture, effective at midnight tonight, E. J. Womack, field supervisor of the emergency Crop and Feed Loan division stated Thursday.

All the personnel of the two agencies attended a meeting at Temple Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Womack pointed out. The merger is effective by an Act of Congress. All employees of both divisions will be under the new setup, Womack said, and will continue to make loans to low-income farmers.

Loans will be for crops and feed, improve farms, buy machinery, livestock and to pay incumbrances on farms.

Womack will continue to maintain his office in the basement of the post office building and will continue to travel over his district during the remainder of the current year.

The FSA offices are mainteined in the Kerr building on North Main street. Personnel there includes L. O. Wright, rural supervisor; Mrs. Irene Dupree, home supervisor, and Miss Maurine Wiley, clerk-typist. Wright stated Thursday their office would be maintained for the present in the Kerr building. He corroborated the statement of Womack relative to the merging of the two government agencies.

MR. AND MRS CLIFFORD M THOMASON JR.

MISS SUE ANN DILL, CLIFFORD M. THOMASON EXCHANGE VOWS IN CHURCH CEREMONY AT WACO

In an impressive double ring ceremony performed at six o'clock on Saturday evening, October 19th at North Waco Baptist church Miss Sue Ann Dill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dill, 2421 West Seventh Avenue, Corsicana, became the bride of Clifford M. Thomason, Jr., son of Mrs. Ethel Thomason, 2012 Reuther Avenue, Waco, and C M. Thomason, 805 South Fifteenth street, Waco.

The rites were read before a candle-lit altar banked with palms, ferns and white gladioli with Rev. Kirby McGuire as the officiant.

Mrs. D. J. Blaylock played the wedding march and accompanied Mr. Blaylock who sang "Because."

The bride was attired in a blue wool gabardine suit with white blouse and black accessories. Her corsage was fashioned of gardenias and sweetheart rosebuds, and she carried a white Bible topped with a huge bow of white satin with long streamers.

The bride's only attendant was Mrs. Raydon D. Kirk, sister of the bridegroom, who wore a gray dressmaker suit with white blouse and black accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Miss Frances Dill, sister of the bride, lighted the candles. She wore a blue two-piece suit with white and brown accessories, and her corsage was designed of white carnationns.

Bill Dill, brother of the bride, attended the bridegroom as best man.

Reception Follows Ceremony.

Following the wedding, a reception was held at the home of the bridegroom's mother. After the bride and bridegroom had cut the two-tiered wedding cake, which was topped with miniature bridal couple and embossed with rosebuds and wedding bells, Mrs. E. H. Tedron served the cake and Miss Norma Bentley presided at the punch service. White gladioli and ferns provided the center decor for the lace-laid bride's table.

The bridegroom received his discharge in July, after serving for two years as Seaman First Class with the U. S. Naval Forces on the East Coast.

After spending several days in Waco, Mr. and Mrs. Thomason have arrived in Corsicana to make their home at 2310 West 7th Avenue.

Out-of-Town Guests.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dill and children, Bill and Charles, Mrs. Earle Campbell and Miss Norma Bently of Corsicana, and James Thomason of Kerens.

Long Sought AWOL Soldier Is Finally Taken By Officers

An A. W. O. L., soldier rested unhappily today in Hotel DeStrong, an affectionate name given the county jail, with his running days over for a while at least.

Sought by county, state and federal peace officers for nearly a year, the elusive Galloping Ghost, as he came to be called, evaded the clutching fingers of exasperated law enforcement officers as regularly as the courthouse clock tolls the hours.

Until this week end the AWOL soldier had disappeared from sight. The last view of him was obtained months ago at a farm here in the county.

On a tip, the two highway patrolmen, Bryan Currin and R. M. Arnold, Constable Sam Curry, and Deputy Sheriff Billy Burton, approached the house as dawn was creeping over the horizon.

When they were about 200 yards from the house they saw a flash of white legs streaking in the other direction towards the creek bottoms. The Galloping Ghost was galloping with the wind.

A short pursuit ended when Highway Patrolman Currin tumbled over a tumble weed bush. The last faint glimpse obtained was the Ghost flashing through the tall timber.

A further chase was useless, the officers knew by experience. The AWOL soldier could run like a hare, even if he was clad just in his undershorts, and he knew the creek bottom as well as his own face.

Other chases had taken place previously when the soldier was AWOL before, but now he was cagy to the ways of the officers. His head start was laid to the fact his keen ears had told him that the approaching car wasn't one of the neighbors. The officers planned to borrow a Model T for the next try.

The Ghost make his mistake when he became embroiled in a fight. The other contestant filed a complaint for affray. Recognizing the name, Patrolman Currin, Constable Curry, and Deputy Sheriff Bill Lee, entered a house in Corsicana from all directions.

Not able to run, the Ghost gave up the ghost.

Burial Funds Are Buried In Coffers Of Justice Court

A touching story it was, this tale of the penniless negress who was awaiting burial. A young negro made the rounds of business houses, collecting donations so the woman might have a decent interment.

Sadder still was the pending burial of a negro. Contributions were again collected. Two bits here and four bits there. A worthy cause it was, until Officer Kelsey Blakeney conducted an investigation.

Hailed into Judge A. E. Foster's court, the negro paid a total of $25 and costs for five charges of theft

He was conducting, it seemed, a private burial association for fictitious deceased

The collections were being burien in his own pockets.

Frost Girl Weds Royce City Man

Miss Louise Stevenson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Stevenson of Frost, was married to John Cantrel, son of Mrs. John H. Cantrel of Royce City, on October 10 at the home of Minister Roy E. Towesy, Fort Worth.

Their attendants were Miss Syble Hunt, friend of the bride, and Bill Range of Royce City, friend of the bridegroom. The couple are making their home in Royce City.

KENWORTHY CHILD'S FUNERAL HELD ON TUESDAY AFTERNOON

John Martin Kenworthy, Jr., 28-day-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Kenworthy, Chicago, died at the Navarro Clinic Monday night.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the McCammon Funeral Chapel with burial in Oakwood cemetery.

Surviving are the parents, a sister, Sarah Lee Kenworthy; and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Shanks, Corsicana.

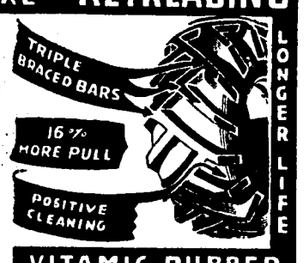

The rites were conducted by Rev. A. J. Kirkland, pastor of the Missionary Baptist church.

Farm Committeemen Election Scheduled

Farmers in Navarro county will receive notices within the next few days about annual elections of community and county farmer-committees, Homer A. Scott, chairman of the county agricultural committee, said today.

Each of the county's 26 farming communities will elect three committeemen and two alternates, as well as a delegate to the county convention where a three-man county committee will be elected.

Scott said that approximately 4,500 farmers are eligible to vote in the elections this year. Eligible farmers are those who are participating in the 1946 ACA program or who have a contract with the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation.

This includes owners, operators, tenants, and sharecroppers on farms where the conservation program is being carried out. Because of the community property laws in Texas, the wife may vote if the husband is eligible, whether he be landlord, tenant or sharecropper.

In announcing the elections, Scott urged all farmers who are entitled to go to the polling places in the community and vote. Since the committeemen are responsible for developing, adapting and administering national farm programs to meet local problems and needs, it is important that the men elected represent the choice of the majority of the farmers in the community.

Rites Held For Mrs. M'Connell Wednesday

Funeral services for Mrs. Ada McConnell, lang-time Navarro county resident, who died at Gridley, Calif.., Saturday, were held Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the residence of a sister, Mrs. Annie O'Neal, Streetman. Burial was in the Cade cemetery. The rites were conducted by Rev. M. O. Southerland, pastor of the First Baptist church of Streetman.

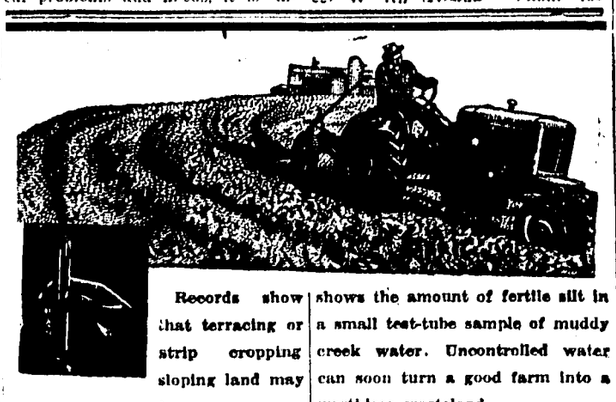

Surviving are a son, Dan McConnell, Gridley, Calif.; five sisters, Mrs. Euna Gregory, Mrs. O'Neal and Mrs. Daisy Easterling, all of Streetman; Mrs. W. T. Grogan, Coolidge, and Mrs. R. L. Reed, Dallas, and other relatives.

Pallbearers were S. L. Coleman, J. A. Coleman, J. D. Miller, B. C. Easterling, J. B. O'Neal and Coy O'Neal.

Records show that terracing or strip cropping sloping land may increase crop yields 20 to 30 per cent within two or three years. Substantial gains are often made the first year. Terraces prevent fertilizer from being washed out of your soil, and hold moisture for crop growth during dry seasons.
More important still, terracing prevents your topsoil from "going down the creek." The picture above shows the amount of fertile silt in a small test-tube sample of muddy creek water. Uncontrolled water can soon turn a good farm into a worthless wasteland.
Allis-Chalmers has shown that contour strips and terraces can be built successfully with your farm tractor and moldboard plow, disc plow or tiller disc

AMERICA'S GREAT HUMANITARIAN ORGANIZATION, RED CROSS, STILL AT WORK THROUGHOUT WORLD

The NAVARRO CHAPTER of the American Red Cross has found no cessation from its duties as a result of the end of hostilities overseas. Do you know that 1,169,500 disaster victims have been aided by the national organization during the past six years? Disaster relief is but one part of the great work done by the American Red Cross, the organization that Americans make possible. Continued interest is needed more than ever to insure the continuance of all such work.

DURING THE PAST eighteen months, the children of this country, through the American Junior Red Cross, have sent more than two million dollars worth of health, educational and medical materials to the children of other lands. This money represents the voluntary humanitarianism of the children of this country. Dried milk, cod liver oil, shoes, afhans, and garden tools and seeds have also been sent overseas by the Junior Red Cross, that the children there might grow to be normal men and women.

VOLUNTEER chapter workers of the American Red Cross have produced 59,796,902 garments during the last six years. Every member of Navarro Chapter has played a part in this great work which is but one of the many forms of assistance rendered by the American Red Cross. This continued support makes possible aid to the needy and suffering which is furnished to countless homes every day by this organization. This work, which goes on every day, is made possible by the support of volunteer workers.

DO YO UKNOW that during the past six years 1,321 overseas clubs, rest homes, canteens, clubmobiles, and other recerational facilities have been operated by the American Red Cross and that in Japan, Germany, wherever American boys are stationed, Red Cross ocntinues to operate recreational facilities? This work is but a part of the vast program being continued by the American Red Cross, the program emphasizing Disaster Relief, Civilian Aid, Safety Prevention, Home Nursing, and many other forms of assistance. The Navarro Chapter is a part of this tremendous American organization which Americans make possible.

A SCRAP OF PAPER and a pencil are two things that seem rather insignificant to us, but to the children of war-torn countries overseas, they are precious items indeed. Members of the Junior Red Cross know this and are now busily engaged throughout America packing educational gift boxes for shipment across two oceans. Pencils, writing paper, crayons, and pens are among the items that go into these boxes. With their schools bombed out, the children over there have had little opportunity for normal education. By giving them pencils and paper, the American Junior Red Cross is contributing a major item to help them on their way to full, educated lives.

THE EVER-RISING toll of death and injury on the highways these days makes the learning of the principles of first aid essential to every person who may have to help. And that means every man, woman and child. To help give emergency first aid to motorists in accidents, the Red Cross has instituted emergency first aid stations at strategic points along the highways where acidents are most likely to occur. To augment these precautions against injuries becoming more serious because of the lack of emergency first aid, all persons who have not had an opportunity will be given the chance at an early date to learn the principles of this humanitarian practice by enrolling in local Red Cross First Aid classes.

SO MUCH stress has been placed on the wartime activities of the American Red Cross during these past years, when all our attentions have necessarily been given to such matters, that the Navarro Chapter of the American Red Cross calls your attention to the 10,371,358 first aid, water safety, and accident prevention certificates that have been awarded by the American Red Cross during the past six years. The work of the American Red Cross is so tremendous in scope not only in disaster, aid to the needy, and services to our veterans, but also in first aid, water safety, and accident prevention—so familiar to all Americans. Red Cross is meeting a great need in the American scene today!

New Cemetery Bridge Has Been Completed

A new concrete and steel bridge leading to Oakwood cemetery has been completed and will be thrown open to public traffic Sunday, W. E. McKinney, city commissioner in charge of finances, parks and the cemetery, announced Thursday.

The new structure, long needed to handle traffic leading to the main entrance of the cemetery, replaced an antiquated plank bridge structure, McKinney said.

The construction of the overpass has taken three weeks, but was erected at a cost of less than $700, McKinney said.

Plan Dairy Meeting At Blooming Grove

A dairy meeting will be held at 7:30 p. m. Nov. 4 in the auditorium of Blooming Grove High school, H. C. Robinson, county agricultural agent announced Thursday

Shannon Carpenter, associate dairyman from the Extension Service, will be the principal speaker at the session, sponsored by the Navarro County Dairymen's Association.

The official will discuss the prospects for dairying in the near future. Many leading dairymen will attend the meeting.

The Blooming Grove area is one of the dairying centers in Navarro county, Robinson declared, and plans are being made to foster a movement that will ultimately bring many young boys into the program.

ANOTHER MAJOR INDUSTRY HERE; MANUFACTURES CEDAR CHESTS AT FACTORY LOCATED HIGHWAY 75

By PAUL MOORE
Daily Sun Staff

One of Corsicana's industries, a cedar chest factory, is located in a thick post oak grove two miles north of Corsicana on Highway 75. The main building, curing racks, sawmill equipment, etc. are in the shade of the oak grove. W. E. Spruill, a native of Navarro county, is the owner and operator of "The Cedar Shop." A passer-by, however, would not recognize this industry that provides employment for 15 Navarro countians unless he saw the cedar lumber curing under the shade trees for the owner has not gotten around to putting up a sign at the highway entrance to his plant.

Raw materials—that is the car lumber—are produced in Navarro county. The logs are from Chatfield northeast of Corsicana, and when that supply is exhausted, other timber has been located near Kerens and Powell.

35 Chests Per Week

The plant manufactures about 35 chests per week and wholesalers get the output unless someone comes by the plant and wants to make a purchase. The retail prices of the product range from $9.95 for the miniature chest to $65 for the quilt boxes. The standard size brings $37.50.

When employment and other conditions become better, Spruill plans to make cedar closet lining on a commercial scale. Little trouble is encountered in securing sufficient labor at the main plant, Spruill pointed out, but getting the choppers for the work of felling the timber, trimming the trunks, etc. in the woods is another matter.

Curing of the cedar requires from six weeks to three months, depending on the weather conditions. Artificial curing of cedar is not very satisfactory.

Saw Mill Equipment

Sawmill equipment turns the knotty cedar logs into lumber on the site of the factory. When the logs are first sawed, the two colors are almost wine appearing and white, but the cured lumber turns to a brownish hue and white.

The logs are cut in eight feet four inch lengths and the smaller ends must not be less than six inches in diameter to be acceptable. The larger the log, the less is the waste and the better is the final product.

When one of the cuts is crooked, it is cut in two to save the waste and smaller planks are secured.

Water-Proof Glue

Water-proof glue is used in lieu of nails or pegs to put the small pieces of lumber going into the construction of the chests and only three hours are required to put the sides or tops together under pressure.

The cedar is polished under motor-driven bands of sandpaper-like materials.

Special copper plated hardware is used.

Spruill was born and reared on a farm four miles north of Powell, Navarro county, and resided there for years. He was not a cotton farmer, however, and started the cedar chest manufacturing about 20 years ago in a workshop rigged up in a barn. He now resides at 741 West Second avenue.

After making up a number of cedar chests, Spruill relates, he would leave and his brother would sell the products and take orders for others.

Former Railroader

Spruill "railroaded" on the Union Pacific for years, and operated a chest factory in Dallas before World War II. He was employed at Whiteforce, Yukon Territory, Canada, and helped build the Edmonton Project, huge refinery, before returning to Corsicana 2 1-2 years ago and the opening of a cedar shop on North Commerce street where he remained until his new venture on the highway.

Spruill is about as interested in his 11acre plot where his factory is located as he is in the business.

Most of the acreage is being put into a terraced orchard—peaches, plums, apricots, pears, cherries, etc. He has planted many stawberries and additional plantings of various berries are contemplated.

The operator of the factory was busy when the news reporter arrived to look over the cedar chest manufacturing concern He was planting vetch along the terraces.

"I figure that the vetch will grow all winter and will be heavy by the time that nut grass starts next spring Spruill explained, "and the vetch will smother out the nut grass."

Much fertlizer has been placed on the sloping hillside where the orchard is located.

Spruill plans to construct a fine home on the acreage when conditions improve and the securing of materials becomes easier.

Neighbors told Spruill there was not any water available, but he has a 33-foot well of soft water that provides 50 gallons per hour under test.

"What if the supply of cedar lumber is exhausted?" Spruill was asked.

He pointed out that his main building can be used for other business or manufacturing ventures.

Meanwhile the personnel continue their work of making cedar chests under the shade of the post oaks.

SEVERAL TEXANS ARE BITTEN BY DOG, NOW REVEALED TO BE MAD

MATADOR, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Additional precautions are being taken here and in the White Flat community near here, following a report from health authorities in Austin that a small dog which recently bit several persons had hydrophobia.

Ten persons took anti-rabies serum yesterday.

The dog died after being bitten by a coyote and local residents have feared an epidemic. The fear was based on the "strange actions" of coyotes in the county and their attacks on livestock, such actions causing many people to believe they were rabid.

MANY RESIDENTS OF CORSICANA REPORT SIGHT OF METEOR

Corsicana residents saw a shooting star, meteor, or other heavenly object flash across the sky Monday night, it was revealed Wednesday following the publication of a story Tuesday from a Fort Worth amateur astronomer, seeking information relative to the event.

A. M. Hendricks, 813 West Seventh avenue, reported Wednesday that he saw the meteor flash across the sky Monday about 6:30 p. m. Hendricks said he was looking out a southwest window when he saw the beautiful object shoot across the sky from west to east, south of Corsicana, but did not see the body explode.

Mrs. Robert Watson, 421 North Fifth street, reported her husband and a neighbor saw the meteor Monday night. The flashing star came from the northwest (Fort Worth direction) and traveled in a southearserly direction. The meteor apparently became hidden behind overhanging clouds as it passed from view almost overhead shortly after it divided into four distinct streaks of light.

A. L. Howeth, 2119 West Fifth avenue, and his son saw the unusual sight as they prepared to get in their automobile. Their description tallied with that of others and Howeth described the meteor as being similar to a skyrocket. After it had broken, the view was obstructed by a tree, and Howeth could not tell where the fragments went.

A graphic description of the spectacular sky-show was supplied by R. E. Ross, 923 North Beaton, who witnessed the meteor's rise and fall from his home.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Flores, 2634 West Ninth avenue, witnessed the celestial display while driving on Twelfth street. Mrs. Flores said it appeared to have three stars in the head and a brilliant tail trailing behind as it disappeared to the east.

Mrs. B. T. Delahay, 2115 West Second avenue, saw the meteor as she waited for a bus with Mrs. C. T. Brogan at the corner of Thirty-first street and Third avenue. It was very bright, she relates, and lighted the sky, then seemed to burst. Being very near the earth, the meteor attracted her attention because of the bright light. It was the brightest she had ever seen, she declared.

Sparks emanated from the meteor and gave it the appearance of a giant skyrocket, Mrs. Delahay said. Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Prince also saw the spectacle.

Scientists Plan Trip.

FORT WORTH, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Oscar E. Monnig and A. W. Mount Fort Worth astronomers, today planned a week-end field trip into the Longview area in search of fragments of a large meteor which cut a brilliant path across Central and East Texas Monday night.

The meteor, which was seen from points as widespread as Fort Worth, Dallas, Corpus Christi and Shreveport, is believed to have disintegrated northeast of Tyler.

Mrs. A. N. Beasley of near Tyler observed three fragments flying in a northeasterly direction.

Re-examination of the course of the meteor indicated it also was seen by a CAA observer at Corpus Christi.

Rayburn Will Speak In Truman District

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Rep. Sparkman (D-Ala) has announced that Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) will speak at the annual pre-election Democratic rally Friday night at Independence, Mo., home of President Truman.

When asked if President Truman would attend, Sparkman stated, "he hasn't missed one yet."

CONTROLS

cause he publicly had taken an opposite stand in a statement on October 18, shortly after President Truman had released all meat and livestock.

"Products made from leather—particularly shoes—are too important to the family budget to be released from price control at this time, in view of the scarcity of supplies," Porter said at that time.

This statement was issued, it was learned, after some representatives of the shoe and leather industries had informed OPA they feared that decontrol would cause prices to skyrocket.

Later when the leather shortage became more acute these same industry leaders appealed to Steelman at the White House to remove controls.

Also involved in the White House discussion, it became known, were protests from Argentina that sharp bidding for hide and leather supplies there had more than doubled Argentine leather prices.

Cotton

Texas Spots

DALLAS, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Spot cotton 30.10: Galveston 30.05; Houston 30.10.

New Orleans Spots Higher

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Spot cotton closed steady $5 a bale higher today. Sales 1,235. Low middling 24.70, middling 30.10, good middling 30.50. Receipts 3,272, stock 198,533.

New Orleans Cotton Table

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Cotton future broke out of the recent liquidation slump and climbed today the allowed 2 cent limit. The advance was attributed to heavy mill buying for price fixing and also on covering.

Some of the demand also resulted from favorable interpretations of Washington news.

Closing prices were strong $4.25 to $10.00 a bale higher than the previous close.

New York Cotton Table

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Cotton prices soared the permissible limit of $10 a bale in heavy forenoon dealings today. For the first time in more than two weeks there was a lack of sellers and it was indicated that fairly large lots of cotton were wanted at the top prices.

Buyers confidence seemed to be restored following yesterday's closing as a result of the wide break which took place over the past several weeks.

Futures closed $4.75 to $10.00 a bale higher.

COAL

Capt. N. H. Collisson, Federal Coal Mines Administrator—still haven't agreed to reopen the present contract, but they say they are willing to discuss anything that is on Lewis' mind.

Others in the administration side with Lewis in his contention that the pact can be reopened on 10 days' notice and ended in 30 days. Lewis started the ball rolling October 21.

2. The government is anxious to avert a coal strike in November, with winter's chill approaching. And the administration is well aware of what would happen under the miners' historic no-contract no-work stand should Lewis cancel the agreement on schedule, November 20.

JESTER NAMES MISS MARIE ROYALL OF ATHENS NTSC QUEEN

AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 31.—(AP)—Brownette Marie Royall of Athens has been declared Yearbook Queen of North Texas State Teachers College at Denton by Governor Nominate Beauford Jester.

Selection was made in ceremonies here yesterday after 20 lovely co-eds flew from the college especially for the occasion. They were entertained at a banquet by the Chmaber of Commerce Aviation committee, which acted as official host.

MISS ROYALL

Jester selected the queen following the banquet and presented her with a huge bouquet of chrysanthemums.

Miss Royall is a senior and speech major, five feet five and one-half inches tall and weighs 116 pounds. She says she has "no immediate plans" for marriage.

HOUSTON BANK THEFT LINKED WITH LIKE CASE IN WASHINGTON

HOUSTON, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Houston police and FBI agents are investigating possibilities that the trio which stole $6,750 from the First National Bank Tuesday may have been the same group that took $38,000 from a Washington, D. C., bank three weeks ago.

FBI agents said yesterday the crafty trio had all the earmarks of being the same gang involved in the Washington robbery.

In the Houston case, one of the men took the money from a teller's cage after the other two distracted the attention of two tellers.

Trial Of Young Dallas Man For Rape Under Way

DALLAS, Oct. 31.—(AP)—The trial of Billy Joe Riddle, 19, charged with rape, opened here yesterday as two girls, aged 16 and 16, testified as to how they were halted at gun point, robbed and raped on the night of May 23 south of Dallas.

Riddle, whose wife sat beside him in the courtroom, pleaded innocent.

Roger Lewis defense attorney, sought to prove on cross-examination that the incidents related by the girls and a 17-year old boy companion were the results of pre-arranged dates made by one of the girls and that the only rape offense was a statutory one because of the girls' age.

Merger Of Kerrville Institutions Studied

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 31.—(AP)—A proposed merger of the Westminster Encampment and Schreiner Institute, both at Kerrville, has been referred to an interim committee by the Synod of Texas of the Presbyterian Church S. S. (Southern).

Delegates attending the synod's three-day meeting here instructed the committee to make further study of the proposed merger and report to the group next year.

At yesterday's session, the Rev. R. D. Campbell of Austin, who is retiring after 46 years of active service in the Latin-American Presbytery, received testimonials of appreciation from the Rev. C. S. Gurro and the Rev. James F. Hardie of Fort Worth, close associates of the retiring pastor.

The synod's educational fund committee reported good progress toward obtaining $1,000,000 for institutions sponsored by the group. The fund campaign will close Dec. 1.

Resigns As Secretary Chamber of Commerce

Resignation of Mrs. Virginia Freeman, secretary at the Chamber of Commerce office, was announced Thursday by E. C. Mueller, manager.

Mrs. Freeman, of Navarro, did not announce future plans before she resigned her office, Mueller said.

Mrs. H. C. Whittenberg, wife of an army officer now in Germany, and native Corsicanan, has succeeded Mrs. Freeman.

Married Thursday.

Mrs. Kathleen Springer became the bride of E. C. Springer in a ceremony performed Thursday afternoon in the courthouse by Judge W. H. Johnson.

They will reside in Farmers Branch, Texas.

Mrs. Alice Jewel Gill became the bride of Joseph Clifton Gill in a ceremony performed Thursday afternoon by Judge W. H. Johnson in the courthouse.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR MRS. M'CLANHAN AT MEXIA THURSDAY

Funeral services for Mrs. Cleo L. McClanahan, 30, of Corsicana, fatally injured in an automobile collision near Trumbull late Tuesday night, were held Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock from Calvary Baptist church at Mexia.

Burial was in the Mexia city cemetery. The rites were conducted by Rev. Wm. H. James, pastor of the church.

Mrs. McClanahan died in the Ennis Municipal Hospital Wednesday afternoon at 2:35 o'clock, from head and other injuries.

It was reported here that occupants of another car figuring in the accident were injured, but details were not available here.

Surviving are her husband, C. S. McClanahan, Corsicana; parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Cooksey, Mexia; four sisters, Mrs. Ruby Kisling, Dallas; Mrs. Edna Sterling and Mrs. Maudie Sunday, both of Mexia, and Mrs. Dorothy Gunn, New London; two brothers, L. C. Cooksey, Jr., Angleton, and Davis Cooksey, Freeport, and other relatives.

Pallbearers were O. M. Rector, Roy P. Conner, Bill Radford, Monroe Thomas, J. B. Best, George Moyer, George Labban and Fred H. Harvey.

Opportunity This Man Was Waiting For; Heckler Hit

A Navarro county man gladly paid his fine to Judge A. E. Foster Tuesday on a charge of affray.

Dating back to schoolboy days, an inveterate heckler had plagued the man, making life miserable.

The other day while talking business with a friend, the heckler approached and made sarcastic disseration on the material, style and cut of the man's attire.

That was the straw. A well-aimed blow sounded the bugle call for Morpheus.

Missing Auto And Honeymooners In Involved Triangle

Judge W. H. (Pop) Johnson was the apex of a confused triangle Tuesday that combined cotton picking, honeymooners, and a missing car to breathe interest into an otherwise dull day.

A group of cotton pickers near Emhouse set the scene.

"Lend me your car and I'll be back in 30 minutes," was the plea of one to another last Saturday.

Thirty minutes passed and no car. Owner went inquiring and found the borrower had grown suddenly prosperous, moving from a rooming house to a leading hotel.

And borrower had reportedly taken unto himself a bride with the tieing of the knot said to have taken place in a nearby town. Sunday no car. Monday no car. Tuesday owner registered a complaint.

Two hours later the owner was back to cancel the complaint. His car had been located in town at a wrecking yard.

The honeymooners had set a fast pace.

The motor was burned up.

INDUSTRIALIZATION, LABOR PROGRAMS ARE PLANNED BY JESTER

DALLAS, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Governor-Nominate Beauford H. Jester said here today he will have a labor program and an industrialization program ready to submit to the legislature when it convenes in January.

Jester is here as the guest of the Sigma Delta Chi journalism fraternity of which he is a member. Another honor guest at a banquet tonight will be State Senator James Taylor of Kerens.

Jester said he did not have in mind now to stress any particular points in the legislative program he will submit to the new legislature.

"I am going to make an honest effort for the adoptionn of all the planks on which I made the race for governor," he said.

LARGE ENROLLMENT VETERANS TRAINING SCHOOL ANNOUNCED

Enrollment in the county vocational training school for veterans has approached 150, R. L. Evans, coordinator, disclosed Monday.

Veterans enrolled in the agriculture courses are now farming as estimated 20,000 acres in the county and a farming program for 1947 is nearing completion.

Each veteran will have his own individual program outlined with emphasis being placed on the individ al cases and situations. Purpose of the outlined program is to arrive at the maximum use so the veterans will realize the most out of their farms.

Many of the veterans are using the recommended practices with over 100 now actively engaged in improvement practices with more planning to conduct similar programs.

A large number of veterans are cooperating with soil conservation officers in terracting programs. Those engaged in ranching are planning betterment of herds. Kerens class, Evans said, has been the most active group in following recommended practices.

During the next two or three weeks record books will be set up for 1947 crop year programs for each veteran operated farm. At the present time nearly all of the income reports for the past three months have been completed and sent to the Veterans Administration.

The coordinator stated that a reporter was to be chosen from each class and his responsibility would be to keep the co-ordinator's office informed on progress in each of the classes.

State Home Plays Hubbard Friday In Feature Attraction

One of the most important games of the season will be unreeled Friday night at Hubbard when the rejuvenated Jaguars entertain the State Home Laddies, the only undefeated and untied team in District 23-B, Interscholastic League.

Neither club was extended by last week's appearances. State Home ran over the Mildred Eagles, 46-0, at Mildred, while Hubbard piled up a 55-0 count over the hapless Italy Gladiators.

Other games scheduled this week include Mildred at Blooming Grove, Frost at Italy and Dawson at Kerens.

The Kerens Bobcats loom as one of the toughest clubs in B circles. The East Navarro countians lost, 7-2, to State Home several weeks ago in one of the toughest contests of the season, but have been mowing them down the remainder of the conference competition by decisive margins.

Other games played in this district last week included Kerens 19, Blooming Grove 0, and Dawson 14, Frost 6.

Political Leaders Of Texas Meet Here November 11

One of the largest political pow-wows in Texas history is expected to be held in Corsicana Nov. 11, Armistice Day, when Corsicana citizens entertain Beauford H. Jester, Corsicana, railroad commissioner, governor-elect, and state officials with whom he will work the next two years. Plans for such a gathering were perfected at a meeting held here Monday night, attended by R. W. Calvert, Hill county attorney and chairman of the Texas Democratic executive committee.

The meeting will be held at the State Home, where a noon luncheon will be given.

In addition to the governor-elect (this will be six days after the Nov. 5 general election in Texas) those to be invited will be the lieutenant governor-elect, attorney general-elect, Gov. Coke R. Stevenson, Texas Democratic executive committee, the board of control and the members of the Texas legislature who will serve the next two years.

R. W. Calvert, state Democratic chairman, is a graduate of the State Home here, and was well pleased that the state-wide political gathering will be held at that institution.

Tickets will be placed on sale here within a few days.

There are 64 members of the executive committee, 150 in the House, 31 in the senate, and three on the board of control.

Chairman Calvert has called his executive committee to meet at 2:30 p. m., November 11, at the State Home, giving the members ample time to inspect the Home following the luncheon.

Details for the luncheon program were worked out at a meeting Tuesday afternoon here of the local arrangements committee.

The local arrangements committee is composed of Mayor John C. Calhoun, E. C. Mueller, W. H. Smith, J. C. Roe, B. L. Sanders, Joe E. Butler, Paul Moore, M. L. Kelley, A. F. Mitchell and J. C. Jacobs.

73-Year Old Five Cent Piece Found

L. O. Gray Monday exhibited a 73-year-old 5-cent piece he found while walking along the alley behind the Levi Bros. Market building.

The piece of money was dated 1873, but it was not appreciably worn, and apparently had not been in continuous circulation. The coin was tarnished because of exposure, but a small amount of shining and rubbing brought out the date and other notatitons. Gray has collected several old coins.
